

Plan an art literacy activity

If you are to spread art appreciation awareness and understanding, what and how will you do a reach out program? Fill out this table.

Topic (related to art appreciation to introduce to people) :	Exploring Impressionism
Activity (description of the entire reach out program) :	The reach-out program will consist of a guided tour to a local art museum with a focus on Impressionist artworks. Participants will have the opportunity to observe and discuss renowned Impressionist paintings, learn about the key characteristics and techniques of the movement, and engage in interactive activities that encourage personal interpretation and emotional connection with the artworks. The tour will be led by an art historian or museum educator who will provide insights and facilitate discussions.
Recipients (specific group of people) :	Adults from a local senior community center or retirement home
Resources needed (persons, materials, etc.) :	Art historian or museum educator: A knowledgeable individual who can lead the guided tour, provide information about Impressionism, and facilitate discussions. Transportation: Arrangements for transportation to and from the art museum. Art materials: Sketchbooks, pencils, and other basic art supplies for participants to use during the interactive activities. Museum admission: Coordination with the art museum to ensure admission for the participants.

	Audiovisual equipment (optional): If available, a projector or screen can be used to showcase additional visual materials or video presentations related to Impressionism.
